

Peer Review Partners

BibleMouse.com

Perfecting and Presenting Opinions

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the following questions based on the lesson about peer review and giving feedback.

1. What is the main purpose of giving feedback?

- A. To hurt feelings
- B. To help improve writing
- C. To make someone sad

2. Proverbs 27:17 teaches us that 'As iron sharpens iron, so one person sharpens ____.'

3. What are 'I' statements and why are they important in giving feedback?

4. What should we focus on when giving feedback?

- A. The writer's feelings
- B. The writing itself
- C. The length of the paper

5. Match the feedback type with its description.

Encouraging

Gives helpful suggestions

Constructive

Makes someone feel good

6. How can friends help each other grow spiritually through feedback?

7. What is one way to make feedback more specific?

- A. Using general comments
- B. Offering clear suggestions
- C. Ignoring the writing

8. When we receive suggestions, it can help us to feel more ____ about our writing.

9. What was challenging about giving feedback to your partner?

10. What makes feedback helpful?

- A. Being vague
- B. Being kind and specific
- C. Saying nothing at all

Answer Key

1. To help improve writing 2. another 3. They help us express our thoughts without blaming others. 4. The writing itself 5. Gives helpful suggestions 6. They can support each other and share ideas that help them improve. 7. Offering clear suggestions 8. confident 9. It was hard to find the right words to say. 10. Being kind and specific

