

Culminating Writing Project Review

BibleMouse.com

Understanding Peer Feedback and Revision

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the following questions based on what you learned about giving and receiving feedback in writing.

1. What is an important part of giving feedback?

- A. Using 'I' statements
- B. Being rude
- C. Ignoring the writer

2. Proverbs 27:17 teaches us that '___ sharpens iron; so a man sharpens the countenance of his friend.'

3. Why is it important to focus on the writing and not the writer when giving feedback?

4. Match the feedback type with its description.

Constructive Feedback

Helps improve writing

Encouraging Feedback

Makes the writer feel good

5. Feedback should always be mean to help the writer improve.

True

False

6. What can you offer to help your friend improve their writing?

- A. Suggestions
- B. Complaining
- C. Ignoring them

7. When giving feedback, you should offer specific ___ to make your suggestions clearer.

8. What did you learn about your writing today from peer feedback?

9. Which statement is an example of an 'I' statement?

- A. You should change this.
- B. I think this part is great.
- C. This is wrong.

10. Peer revision helps us develop critical thinking and ___ skills.

Answer Key

1. Using 'I' statements 2. Iron 3. It helps the writer feel safe to improve their work. 4. Helps improve writing 5. False 6. Suggestions 7. suggestions 8. I learned that my ideas were strong but needed more details. 9. I think this part is great. 10. communication