

Still Life with Form Review

BibleMouse.com

Understanding Value and Form in Art

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the following questions based on what you learned about light, value, and form in your still life drawing.

1. What helps create highlights and shadows in a drawing?

- A. Color choices
- B. Light sources
- C. Brush types

2. How does light change how an object looks? Give an example.

3. Value is the lightness or ___ of a color.

4. Gradual value changes are not important for showing three-dimensional shape.

- True False

5. What is a key skill developed while creating a still life drawing?

- A. Speed
- B. Patience
- C. Using bright colors

6. What was challenging about creating form in your drawing? Describe one difficulty.

7. Just as God created man in His own image, we reflect His creativity by observing and ___ the forms He has made.

8. Observing carefully helps capture an object's true form.

- True False

9. What makes something look round or solid in a drawing?

- A. Bright colors
- B. Highlights and shadows
- C. Straight lines

10. How did changing light affect your drawing? Explain what you noticed.

Answer Key

1. Light sources 2. Light can create shadows that change the object's appearance, making it look more three-dimensional. For example, a round apple looks different in bright light than in shadow. 3. darkness 4. False 5. Patience 6. One challenge was making sure the shadows were placed correctly to show the shape of the object. It took a lot of practice to get it right. 7. drawing 8. True 9.

Highlights and shadows 10. Changing light made some parts of the object brighter and others darker, which helped me show depth. I noticed that shadows could change the way the object looked completely.