

Peer Conference Circle Review

BibleMouse.com

Revising Our Stories

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the questions below based on what you learned about giving and receiving feedback during the Peer Conference Circle.

1. What is one guideline for giving constructive feedback?

- A. Be harsh
- B. Focus on the writer
- C. Be specific

2. Proverbs 15:1 teaches us that a ____ answer turns away wrath.

3. Why is it important to use 'I' statements when giving feedback?

4. Constructive feedback should highlight what works well before suggesting improvements.

- True False

5. What does a kind critique focus on?

- A. The writer's personality
- B. The writing itself
- C. What the writer did wrong

6. Feedback helps us grow by providing _____ about our writing.

7. What was one challenge you faced when giving feedback to your partner?

8. It is better to criticize harshly than to offer helpful suggestions.

- True False

9. How can asking questions help the writer improve their story?

- A. It confuses them
- B. It gives them new ideas
- C. It makes them feel bad

10. Jesus would want us to help each other by giving feedback that is _____ and supportive.

Answer Key

1. specific 2. soft 3. Using 'I' statements helps to express my opinion without sounding accusatory. It makes the feedback feel more personal and less harsh. 4. True 5. The writing itself 6. insight 7. I found it hard to be specific about what needed improvement without hurting their feelings. 8. False 9. It gives them new ideas 10. kind