

Peer Review Partners

BibleMouse.com

Revising Informative Writing

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the following questions based on what you learned about peer feedback and writing.

1. What does the saying 'Iron sharpens iron' mean in the context of peer feedback?

- A. It means we should only work alone.
- B. It means feedback can help us improve.
- C. It means we should avoid giving feedback.

2. Starting feedback with positive observations is important.

- True False

3. When giving feedback, it's important to be ____ and use specific examples.

4. Why is it important to suggest improvements instead of just giving criticisms?

5. What should feedback focus on?

- A. General thoughts
- B. Specific observations
- C. Personal feelings

6. Receiving feedback graciously means accepting it without getting upset.

- True False

7. Proverbs 27:17 teaches us that ____ sharpens iron.

8. How can we help our writing partners improve through feedback?

9. What is one way to start giving feedback?

- A. By pointing out all the mistakes
- B. By saying something positive
- C. By ignoring the good parts

10. Peer review is not helpful for improving writing skills.

- True False

Answer Key

1. It means feedback can help us improve. 2. True 3. kind 4. Suggesting improvements helps the writer know how to make their work better, rather than just feeling bad about what is wrong. 5. Specific observations 6. True 7. iron 8. We can help by pointing out what they did well and giving suggestions on how to make their writing even better. 9. By saying something positive 10. False