

Built to Survive Review

BibleMouse.com

Understanding Animal Structures for Survival

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the following questions based on what you learned about animal adaptations and how they help animals survive.

1. What is an adaptation?

- A. A special body part that helps animals survive
- B. A type of food animals eat
- C. A place where animals live

2. Give two examples of animal adaptations and explain how they help those animals survive.

3. God designed animals with specific ____ to help them thrive in their environments.

4. All animals have the same adaptations for survival.

- True False

5. Which animal is well-known for having a thick coat of fur for cold environments?

- A. Camel
- B. Penguin
- C. Polar Bear

6. How do animal body structures reflect God's intentional design according to the lesson?

7. The Bible tells us that God saw all His creations and said it was ____.

8. Adaptations can include features like camouflage or special beaks.

- True False

9. What might be a key difference between a camel and a polar bear?

- A. Camels live in cold places
- B. Polar bears have humps
- C. Camels are adapted for hot, dry places

10. Why do you think it is important for animals to have adaptations?

Answer Key

1. A special body part that helps animals survive 2. Camels have humps that store fat for energy, helping them survive in deserts. Polar bears have thick fur and fat to keep them warm in icy environments. 3. adaptations 4. False 5. Polar Bear 6. Animal body structures are specifically made to match their environments, showing that God thoughtfully created each animal to fit perfectly where they live. 7. good 8. True 9. Camels are adapted for hot, dry places 10. Adaptations are important because they help animals find food, stay safe, and survive in their specific habitats.

