

Sensory Detail Explosion Review

BibleMouse.com

Understanding Sensory Language in Writing

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the following questions based on today's lesson about using sensory details in narrative writing.

1. What are the five senses we discussed using in writing?

- A. Touch, Taste, Smell, Sound, Sight
- B. Hearing, Smelling, Tasting, Writing, Seeing
- C. Feeling, Touching, Sensing, Hearing, Smelling

2. How do sensory details help us better understand a story? Give an example from a Bible story.

---

---

---

3. Psalm 34:8 encourages us to ____ and see that Yahweh is good.

4. Using sensory details can make writing less interesting.

- True       False

5. Which sense involves aromas in a scene?

- A. Sight
- B. Touch
- C. Smell

6. What was challenging about using all five senses in your writing?

---

---

---

7. In narrative writing, sensory details can help create a ____ scene.

8. Sensory language can only be used in fiction, not in biblical narratives.

- True       False

9. Which sense would you use to describe a warm, sunny day?

- A. Touch
- B. Sight
- C. Taste

10. Can you think of a Bible story with strong sensory descriptions? Describe it briefly.

---

---

---

---

Answer Key

1. Touch, Taste, Smell, Sound, Sight    2. Sensory details help us visualize the story and feel emotions. For example, in the story of the Prodigal Son, we can imagine the smell of the feast and the feel of the father's embrace.    3. taste    4. False    5. Smell    6. It was hard to think of how to describe everything using all senses. Sometimes I could visualize something but couldn't find the right words for the smell or sound. 7. vivid 8. False 9. Touch 10. One example is the story of Jesus feeding the 5,000. We can imagine the smell of the bread and fish, and how the crowd might have felt when they saw so much food.