

Correlative Conjunctions Review

BibleMouse.com

Understanding and Using Correlative Conjunctions

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the following questions based on what you learned about correlative conjunctions.

1. What are correlative conjunctions used for?

- A. To create questions
- B. To connect related ideas
- C. To end sentences

2. The correlative conjunction pair 'not only ___ but also ___' connects two related ideas.

3. Why do correlative conjunctions create balance in sentences?

---

---

4. The pair 'either/or' can be used to present choices.

- True       False

5. Which of the following is NOT a correlative conjunction pair?

- A. both/and
- B. neither/nor
- C. if/then

6. Create a sentence using the correlative conjunction pair 'either/or'.

---

---

7. The five main correlative conjunction pairs are either/or, neither/nor, both/and, not only/but also, and ___/___

8. Correlative conjunctions come in single forms rather than pairs.

- True       False

9. How do correlative conjunctions help us communicate more clearly?

---

---

---

10. What does Proverbs 15:1 teach us about communication?

- A. Harsh words are always better
- B. A soft answer can help avoid anger
- C. Words have no impact

---

Answer Key

1. To connect related ideas   2. but   3. They connect two equal ideas, making the sentence clearer and more structured.   4. True   5. if/then   6. You can either play soccer or go swimming this weekend.   7. whether/or   8. False   9. They link ideas together in a balanced way, making it easier for readers to understand the relationship between the ideas.   10. A soft answer can help avoid anger