

Opinion Writing Review

BibleMouse.com

Understanding Drafting and Persuasion

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the following questions based on the lesson about opinion writing.

1. What is the purpose of a strong introduction in an opinion essay?

- A. To confuse the reader
- B. To grab the reader's attention
- C. To provide a summary

2. Why is it important to state your main opinion clearly in your writing?

3. Using ____ words can make your writing more persuasive.

4. An attention-grabbing opening is unimportant in an opinion essay.

- True False

5. What does Proverbs 16:24 teach us about words?

- A. They can be harmful
- B. They are unimportant
- C. They can be sweet and healthful

6. How can you connect your introduction to your supporting paragraphs?

7. A clear claim is essential for a strong ____ in an essay.

8. Supporting evidence is not necessary in persuasive writing.

- True False

9. What is one way to make your reader interested in your topic?

- A. Use boring facts
- B. Ask a thought-provoking question
- C. Ignore their interests

10. What makes a strong opening statement?

Answer Key

1. To grab the reader's attention 2. Stating my main opinion clearly helps the reader understand my point of view and makes my argument stronger. 3. persuasive 4. False 5. They can be sweet and healthful 6. I can connect my introduction to my supporting paragraphs by mentioning the points I will discuss in the introduction and then explaining them further in the body. 7. introduction 8. False 9. Ask a thought-provoking question 10. A strong opening statement is engaging, grabs attention, and gives a hint about my main opinion.