

Informational Text Structures Review

BibleMouse.com

Understanding How Informational Text Works

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the following questions based on what you learned about informational text structures.

1. Which text structure shows how one thing leads to another?

- A. Description
- B. Cause and Effect
- C. Compare and Contrast

2. The five main informational text structures are: ____, Compare and Contrast, Problem and Solution, Sequence, and Description.

3. The Compare and Contrast structure highlights only the differences between two topics.

- True False

4. Why is understanding text structure important for readers?

5. What does the Sequence structure explain?

- A. Steps or chronological order
- B. Similarities and differences
- C. An issue and potential solutions

6. Authors may choose a specific structure to help the reader ____ the information more effectively.

7. A wise man will increase learning according to Proverbs 1:5.

- True False

8. Can you think of an example of the Problem and Solution text structure from a book you've read? Describe it briefly.

9. What is the purpose of the Description text structure?

- A. To provide detailed information about a topic
- B. To show how events are related
- C. To compare two different things

10. Understanding different text structures helps us become more strategic ____ when reading.

Answer Key

1. Cause and Effect 2. Cause and Effect 3. False 4. Understanding text structure helps readers to better comprehend the information presented, making it easier to find key points and understand the author's message. 5. Steps or chronological order 6. understand 7. True 8. In a book about pollution, the problem is the dirty environment, and the solution involves recycling and using less plastic. 9. To provide detailed information about a topic 10. readers