

Literary Landscape Discovery Review

BibleMouse.com

Final Novel Study Introduction

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answer the following questions based on the lesson about setting and mood in literature.

1. What is one way authors create a vivid setting?

- A. Using descriptive adjectives
- B. Writing in first person
- C. Creating dialogue

2. How does the setting influence the mood in a story? Provide an example from a novel you know.

3. The relationship between setting and mood helps to create the ____ atmosphere of a story.

4. Descriptive language is not important for creating a reader's experience.

- True False

5. Which literary device is used to compare one thing to another to enhance description?

- A. Simile
- B. Metaphor
- C. Alliteration

6. What are some sensory details authors might use to describe a setting? List at least three.

7. In Psalm 104:24, it says the earth is full of God's ____.

8. Setting refers only to the physical location of a story.

- True False

9. How can mood affect a character's experience in a story?

- A. It cannot affect them
- B. It can make their emotions stronger
- C. It can confuse them

10. Why do you think authors put so much thought into creating settings? Explain your reasoning.

Answer Key

1. Using descriptive adjectives 2. The setting can change how readers feel about the story. For example, a dark forest might create a scary mood while a sunny beach might create a happy mood. 3. emotional 4. False 5. Metaphor 6. Authors might use details about sight, sound, and smell. For example, they could describe the bright colors of a sunset, the chirping of birds, or the scent of fresh flowers. 7. riches 8. False 9. It can make their emotions stronger 10. Authors create detailed settings to help readers feel more connected to the story. A well-crafted setting enhances the plot and makes the characters' experiences more relatable.